In Exodus 19:3-8, God has decided to make an agreement with His people. Just as the kings would do with their nation during this time period, God is telling the people what He will do for them as their king if they obey His requests. According to this passage, what does God expect from them? What does He promise will result?

Now read I Peter 2:9. In this passage, Peter transfers the titles of Israel to the new testament church. According to this verse, why has God set the church apart as His chosen people?

Last week we read Romans 12:1-2 and discussed how our daily activities can be used as a daily act of worship, to proclaim the praises of God. How can the church declare the praises of God outside of Sunday morning gatherings?
